Project Vaughan: Towards an Understanding of the Italian Canadian Experience Beyond "Little Italy"

Conference Co-Chairs: Professor Elio Costa, Professor Gabriele Scardellato, Councillor Tony Carella

Metropolitan Toronto was the first point of settlement for more than 250,000 Italian immigrants after the Second World War. Many of these later settled in the City of Vaughan, where 44% of the population is of Italian heritage, according to the 2001 census. In Woodbridge, one part of Vaughan, that figure rises to 71%. This resettlement has become a unique immigrant and post-immigrant reality, sometimes satirized, often criticized and misunderstood. Is it also a metaphor for the Italian-Canadian experience at the beginning of the twenty-first century? To explore this phenomenon, the Elia Chair has convened a conference to take place September 28/29, 2007, at the Vellore Village Joint Complex (composed of Vellore Village Community Centre and St. Jean de Brebeuf Catholic High School), on the west side of Weston Road, between Davos Road and Villa Royale Avenue---north of Rutherford Road and south of Major Mackenzie Drive, in Woodbridge. The public is welcome. Admission is free.
